1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 PURPOSE

Welcome to the Fortanix Confidential Computing Manager (CCM) system administration guide. The purpose of this guide is to describe the various activities that will be logged in a Fortanix CCM system administration account.

1.2 INTENDED AUDIENCE

This setup guide is intended to be used by System Administrators of Fortanix CCM who will be responsible for configuring external logging systems to log the various sys admin activities.

2.0 LOG MANAGEMENT

Currently, Fortanix CCM supports the following logging systems in a System Administrator account.

- Splunk
- Azure Log Analytics
- Syslog

For the detailed instructions to configure the above external logging systems, refer to User's Guide: Logging.

3.0 SYSTEM ADMINISTRATOR ACTIVITIES LOGGED

The following activities are logged on an external logger for a sysadmin account:

1. Approving/Rejecting a new account from the Pending tab on the Accounts page.
2. Disabling/Enabling an account from the Accounts page.
3. Disabling/Enabling/Deleting a System Administrator/Operator from the System Administrators tab on the Users page.
4. Inviting a new user to join the System Administrator account from the System Administrators tab on the Users page.
5. All the operations related to Applications/Images from the Applications tab.
6. All the operations related to Compute Nodes from the Compute Nodes tab.
7. Approving/Rejecting tasks from the Tasks tab.
